Check to see that your computer has the correct plug ins by clicking on System Requirements. This will show you if you are missing anything necessary to run Odyssey. As you work through activities, if you find missing text and images you should check the System Requirements.

Once you’ve logged into Odyssey, you will see the icons for courses that have been assigned to you. Be sure that your course has a gold circle around it. This means your instructor has given you the correct, customized course. If your subject does not have the circle around the course icon, contact your instructor. Please also make sure your name appears at the top.

Correct Course – note the gold circle

Incorrect Course – contact instructor
Once you’ve logged into Odyssey, click on the course you wish to work in. You’ll see more folders and activities than this example, but just as here, you’ll follow the arrows to move through the course in order.

Circular Icon allows student to return to the main log in screen to check scores. Back arrow will take student back to the previous screen.

Once you begin working in an assignment, you should proceed in order from left to right. This will allow you to get the necessary instruction to be successful on a quiz. As you work through your assignments, pay attention to the decision points. If you do not meet a satisfactory score on a quiz, you will be made to re-take the quiz. Before, retaking a quiz, be sure to review the material! You can review this material by clicking on the activity before the quiz, or by using activity numbers to re-do lessons.

After you’ve completed a quiz, go back to check your score or to look for activity codes to re-do any of the activities. Click on the circle in the top left corner to return to your homepage.
Once you’ve returned to the home page, click on the portfolio in the upper left hand corner. Your icon will be a bookbag or a briefcase, but it’s located in the same spot.

In the portfolio you’ll automatically see today’s scores, you can click week or month as well. More detailed reports are available under the assignments and reports screen as well. From here you can see the activities and quiz scores you’ve completed. If there is an activity code, you can write it down and use that code to re-do any instructional courses or scored activities. In this case, since I failed my quiz, I would write down activity number a2050 so I could review the material before retaking my quiz. I’ll put that number into the activity code box on the previous screen (see above).
To check progress on a course or assignment, click the assignments tab (shown above). Click Details to see what you have and what you have completed.

The details will show you what is in the course. If you’ve finished activities, the white paper under status will turn all the way blue. You will only see scores for activities marked on the left with a Q or activities that have a gold circle on the blue box. Looking here, this student hasn’t completed anything yet. When they have completed something the only activity on this view that will have a score is the Lesson Quiz. The others will continue to say N/A. This is a great report to print out at the beginning so you can keep a record of your grades.
